

P.F.C. Anthony T. Malovich
1179157 U.S.M.C.
First Weapons Company
Sixth Infantry Training Battalion
Training and Replacement Command Camp Joseph H. Pendleton
Oranville, California

I

April 29, 1951

Hi folks,

How is everything out in Stephensville? Everything is fine out here and I can't kick too much yet. The only kick I have is being way the hell out here on the west coast. One thing tho the country is really beautiful out here. When right in the mountains and on one side you can see the ocean from up here. I really got fooled when I thought that I'd be stationed on the east coast but orders are orders and I guess they put a guy where they want him.

Well, I really have a hard time trying to think of something to write, but I figured that I owe you a letter. Still haven't got any mail since I got back but there was a mixup in the sorting of-

over

mail and our mail got sent somewhere else.
We'll have to wait a few days until they get it all straightened out.

Didn't go anywhere this weekend but last week I went to Los Angeles and Hollywood. Really had a good time. Saw a few movie stars and looked the town over.

How is the garage business going? But they keep Tony busy. Wish I was home to go fishing with him some more.
I'll have to wait a while though because if I get another leave it won't be until the middle of August.

Can't think of any more to write but I'll write again. So be good now and until next time - so long for now.

Love
Tony

P.S. My address is on the other side → a good long one too.

Handwritten scribbles

A
i
M a
i l

Mr. Anthony Prezyna
Main Road
Strykeremille, New York

